While we show examples of stocks in USA and Australia, Jim's principles may also be quickly adapted for use in many other markets around the world.

This will give you an insight into how we can help you to improve your trading and investing skills or to get started safely and wisely.

Q1: " What does 'reliable data' mean? Also, can you explain more about your Free Data /Charts Trial?"

A: In other income producing activities, most professionals and trades people usually need to invest in some form of Tools of Trade. Similarly, as trader or investors, our main Tools of our Trade are the need for a charting program, together with reliable data.

There are various free programs available on the net, e.g. www.BigCharts.com. To view Australian charts there, type in the prefix AU: ahead of the stock code. For example, BHP would be AU:BHP and RIO would be AU:RIO, etc. Big Charts provides the ability to view charts in various timeframes, e.g. intraday, daily, weekly and monthly. You can also use their 'Advanced' button to add various Indicators.

Free charts are also provided by various online discount brokers. However, data provided by free providers is sometimes not accurate or reliable, particularly when Companies activate a:

1. Stock split (e.g. 2 for 1, so you receive twice the number of shares at half the previous day's price), or a
2. Consolidation (e.g. 1 for 5 where you end up with 1/5 of the number of shares at 5 times the previous day's price)

Reliable data suppliers will automatically adjust the price in such situations so that the chart looks continuous. However, this is not always the case with many free chart providers, so an excessively large gap shows on the chart.

Norgate Investor Services, the suppliers of our JB Premium Data, carry out regular checks to ensure that all stock splits, consolidations are adjusted and to remove stocks which are delisted.

JB Premium Data is the data supplied with JB Premium Charts. In addition, it can easily be used directly to 'feed' other charting programs, such as Amibroker, Market Analyst, MetaStock and many others which read 'MetaStock language'.

JB Premium Data also comes with a FREE charting program, with many commonly used indicators. (Jim Berg's JB Volatility Indicators are not included in this free charting program. However, they are provided as part of our complete JB Premium Charts package, along with 12 months data and historical data).

Often, two other shortcomings when using most free charting programs are that:

1. You are limited to viewing them when you are connected to the internet and
2. Usually you cannot compile folders of charts, so you have to type in the stock codes each time.

In contrast, having your own software on your laptop/computer means that you can download your data when you are next online, then view your charts offline if required and for as long as you like.

Users of the Free charts which come with JB Premium Data (as well as users of our complete JB Premium Charts) benefit by being able to create multiple folders (called 'books') of their favourite Watch Lists, their portfolio(s), etc.

Even better, these books can also easily be automatically generated by importing Notepad lists of stock codes. (You will find our 'Watch List Instructions' in the 'New Members' Resources' in the right column of the Members Only Library). In addition, Jim Berg has created a series of free Video podcasts on how to install the free data and use the free charting program.

You are invited to take a 3 week trial of JB Premium Data and its free charting program. You can select whether to download data for USA, ASX, Singapore and/or futures/commodities.
