Each week Members currently receive:

- ✓ Two lists of 'Expert Picks' shares to enter into our Member's Stock Selection Tool to filter which (if any) meet Jim's entry Rules. The following week, we show the results of Jim's own analysis for Members to compare with their own review.
- ✓ Jim's latest own Watch List of 'JB Alerts' – Jim's personal selection of Australian companies in the ASX300 which pass virtually all his Rules, so Members can watch for the final Entry Signal and check the final Entry Rules for the same stocks which Jim watches.

In addition, today we are extremely pleased to launch Jim Berg's special 'Featured Stock of the Week' segment in this Newsletter.

Here's how this new Educational exercise will work:

- 1) Each week, Jim will continue to present his latest Watch List Table of 'JB Alerts', as usual.
- 2) Starting today, Jim will also choose ONE share from previous Alerts Lists which he considers has demonstrated:
  - a. A stable looking rising uptrend
  - b. In the order of 3 or 4 entry and exit signals over his nominated time frame
- 3) That share will be nominated as Jim Berg's 'Stock of the Week' for Members to analyse over the next week- and, using Jim's JB Volatility Indicators, to record the various potential:
  - i. Entry and exit dates and the
  - ii. Corresponding entry and exit prices for both daily and weekly charts which have occurred during the time frame which Jim will nominate. Members can then compare their results with Jim's, which he will present the following week.

- 4) To assist Members in this regard, download our new spreadsheet tool called 'Stock of the Week' from the Members Library, then open the chart and enter your data from 3) above.
- 5) In the next Edition a week later, Jim Berg will show the results of his own analysis for that same stock so you can compare with your own analysis.

These exercises will be designed to help you speed up and simplify the development of your analysis skills and hence your confidence to trade and invest in the market using Jim's 'Weight-of-Evidence'

That's why we encourage Members to set aside time to physically carry out the analysis of Jim's 'Stock of the Week' each week.

On Page 5 today, Jim will highlight his 'Stock of the Week' for Newsletter Members to analyse over the coming week, selected from a previous RSI Alerts List.

This Week's Educational Exercise #1: 'Jim Berg's Stock of the Week'

We trust that these new educational exercises will help you, as a Newsletter Member, to speed up and simplify the development of your analysis skills -- and hence your confidence to trade and invest in the market, using Jim's 'Weight-of-Evidence'.

That's why we encourage Members to decide to set aside the time to physically carry out the analysis of Jim's selection each week, using Jim's unique JB Volatility Indicators and his common sense 'Weight-of-Evidence' approach.

Jim's Volatility Indicators are included on many charting programs, such as Amibroker, BullCharts, IC Investor, Market Analyst, etc. MetaStock users can also add them using Jim's Volatility Charting Template.

Jim Berg uses JB Premium Charts, which includes his JB Volatility Indicators, twelve months of JB Premium Data and history data.

Jim's 'Stock of the Week' for Members to analyse this week since JUNE 2013 is Stock 2**, which was also originally featured in the RSI Alerts List of Edition 447:

1. Open your chart of Stock 2**, in weekly format
2. Use Jim's Rising Trend Rules to confirm a rising trend
3. Switch to daily charts and use Jim's Volatility Indicators, Entry and Exit Rules to determine Entries and Exits for short term trading
4. Make sure you exclude any potential trades which do not pass ALL of Jim's Entry Rules.
5. Switch to weekly charts to determine the corresponding Exits for longer term investing
6. Download our new spreadsheet tool called 'Stock of the Week' (from the Members' Library and enter:
  - i. Entry and exit dates and the
  - ii. Corresponding entry and exit prices for both daily and weekly charts
7. Save your results, then compare with Jim Berg's analysis for the same stock which he will present in next week's Newsletter Edition.

Jim and I look forward to your feedback on this completely new initiative. Please email us at Info@ShareTradingEducation.com, thank you.
