Breaking News: ASX200 Break Out and "2 for 1" Celebration

A) ASX200 Breakout

Yesterday, Tuesday 19th December 2017, marked a specific occasion as the ASX200 (XJO) broke out above its previous Highs May AND November 2017.

"Why is that important?" you may ask.

To understand the significance, let's recap some important events this year.

1. Saturday 6th May: Jim Berg announced* to Members of his mentoring-style weekly Report and to his Trading & Investing Signals Services that:
 - a) He had observed that the XJO had given a Key Reversal Signal the previous day
 - b) Jim had decided to "take profits" and close all 'open' positions in his Report and Signals Services on Monday 8th May
 - c) " From 5th May 2017 until further notice... any Members who wish to continue trading and investing do so against the General Advice of the Proprietors."
2. Monday 8th May: 33 'open' positions were closed in Jim's Signals Services, of which 31 were in notional profit (I.e.93.9%)
3. History now shows Jim's call was very timely* as the ASX200 in Australia retraced in May/June 2017, then wallowed until early October 2017.
4. During the subsequent rally in October, Jim cautioned his Members to wait for a confirmed breakout above the May 2017 Highs AND the psychological round number of 6,000 just above*.
5. Thursday 9th November 2017: the ASX managed to record a High of 6052.10, but in his Report that weekend, Jim Berg notified his Members that he was "reluctantly" removing his 'Caution' which had been in place since May 2017 -as those conditions had been met - but also advised his Members to be " very careful".

Again, Jim's call was timely as the ASX 200 subsequently retraced below 6000, just 2 days later*.

ASX200 (XJO) Weekly Chart

6. The ASX200 (XJO) then spent the last month consolidating, until yesterday, Tuesday 19th December, it made a convincing break above the May AND November 2017 Highs.
7. If this 'Christmas rally' can now hold the ASX200 above that level, this potentially sets up a positive end to 2017 and for the New Year.
8. Jim Berg is now looking for new Entry Signals for our:
 - a. Australian Investing, Trading and our new ETF Signals Services and
